Psychometric Test User Training with Selection by Design: August - September Courses 2024 (https://www.activelink.ie/node/109453)

SxD's next professional psychometric test training is coming up soon! A fantastic chance to build your psychological assessment skills and become accredited through the internationally recognized British Psychological Society qualifications of Occupational Test User or Forensic Test User.

Occupational Test User. Learn to assess ability, aptitude, personality, and emotional intelligence for employee selection, leadership development, career progression and coaching. Psychometric testing is an essential component of best practice in employment decisions today. Holding the professional skills and credentials of a trained Occupational Test User adds measurable value to your business and personal profile. Become specialized in the 16pf® 6th edition personality assessment through this course.

Interactive, professional and fully support online delivery:

- Test User: Occupational, Ability: 26 – 27 Aug 2024
- Test User: Occupational, Personality: 28 – 29 Aug 2024
- Course hours 1:00 pm - 5:30 pm (GMT).

Forensic Test User. Gain critical knowledge and practical competencies needed for work with psychometric measures of personality disorders, mental health, and risk assessment. Learn to interpret results and to make decisions based on testing in forensic contexts. Spans the processes of administering forensic tests through developing results reports.

Who is Forensic Test User training for?

- Professionals working in forensic contexts, such as prisons, secure hospitals, court or probation services where risk of reoffending is assessed.
- Students and researchers in areas such as clinical or forensic psychology, criminology, mental health, and risk assessment.
- Anyone who would benefit from holding the BPS internationally recognised, professional credentials in forensic testing.

Online, interactive delivery by team of psychometrically specialized psychologists:

- Test User: Forensic: 11 – 13 Sep 2024
- Course hours 1:00 pm – 5:30 pm each day (GMT).

Exclusive features of Selection by Design's Test User Training:

- Learn, practice and grow your testing skills through live interaction with expert psychometricians. Courses provided by a team of highly experienced and uniquely qualified BPS/PSI Chartered and Occupational Psychologists.
- Gain insight, perspective and practical advice on the key issues in testing today from our highly recognised psychometrics professionals. SxD's lead trainer is the British Psychological Society's Senior Occupational Testing Verifier.
- Limited course enrolment guarantees high-level personal attention and opportunities for interaction.
- Unequalled post-course support, to get you started as a professional Test User!
