

CRITICAL: Community Fundraising Officer (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/109569>)

Community Fundraising Officer

Remote, All Ireland

Salary: €40,000 - €45,000

Type: Full-time, permanent

Location: This role can be based anywhere in the country as long as you are flexible to travel nationwide as required and to head office on approximately a bi-monthly basis.

ABOUT CRITICAL

CRITICAL is Ireland's leading Emergency Medical Response charity. Its mission is to save lives in communities across the country through a network of Volunteer Emergency Medical Responders.

Founded in 2009 as Irish Community Rapid Response, CRITICAL now has a growing network of volunteer responders in 20 counties, including cities, towns, and villages. With over 100 medical responders, including emergency medical technicians (EMTs), paramedics, consultants, and other qualified medical professionals, CRITICAL works in partnership with the National Ambulance Service (NAS) and responds to life-threatening emergencies.

CRITICAL envisions an Ireland where communities and those living in it have equal opportunities to receive a rapid medical response in the event of a medical emergency, injury, accident, or trauma.

ABOUT THE ROLE

CRITICAL are now seeking a talented Community Fundraising Officer to join their team. This is an exciting role for an energetic, proactive and motivated individual, looking to make their mark and take the next step in their fundraising career working as part of a small but mighty team.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the development of CRITICAL's community and events fundraising programme, growing a strong volunteer network and building long term relationships with volunteer fundraisers.

The Community Fundraising Officer will manage the delivery of a range of events and activities to create a sustainable income stream for the charity. They will establish and deliver excellent supporter care and stewardship to nurture strong relationships with supporters and event participants with the aim of turning them into long term supporters of CRITICAL's work.

This is a rare opportunity get in at the ground floor and play a lead part in shaping and developing a national charity's community fundraising strategy. Ideally, you will have fundraising experience but it is not essential – a background in sales, business development, account management or events would also be highly relevant.

If you're a creative, energetic professional with strong event coordination experience and excellent relationship building skills who is comfortable working of your own initiative and looking to take the next step in your career, we'd love to hear from you!
