

Clondalkin Drugs and Alcohol Task Force: Call for Tender (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/111920>)

Overview

Clondalkin Drugs and Alcohol Task Force (CDATFF) are seeking tenders from suitable candidates to support the prevention work of the organisation. The organisation is seeking to enhance its current prevention work by adding a robust research element that will inform the future development of the programme. Tenders are sought from interested candidates or organisations that has a strong research background and that can work in collaborative manner with CDATF.

About CDATF

Since 1998 the Clondalkin Drug and Alcohol Task Force has worked to reduce drug-related harms to individuals, families, and communities by working in partnership with key stakeholders in the community, voluntary and statutory sectors on the coordination and delivery of services.

Currently, organisations in the catchment area are funded through the CDATF to deliver ongoing activities and interventions along the continuum of care of targeted prevention, family support, treatment and rehabilitation, supply reduction and coordination.
