

VSI January Meetup: 'Climate Justice and The Future of Our Food'
(<https://www.activelink.ie/node/112968>)

Join VSI for our January meetup and workshop, which takes place online on Tuesday 28th January at 19.00. This month we will be discussing the impacts climate change has on food security, and explore how collective action can help ensure access to nutritious food for all. This workshop is open to all and we encourage everyone to attend.

For anybody interested in international volunteering, our meetups offer a casual space to learn about VSI and our volunteer opportunities and to meet like-minded people. Visit our website for more info.
