

The Science of Love (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/113427>)

Let's Grow Together, Irish Play Therapy Association and the Irish Association for Infant Mental Health are delighted to welcome Dan Wuori to Cork on Friday 14th February 2025. Cork will be the first stop on Dan's upcoming visit to Ireland.

Join us for this interactive, positive event for Valentine's day to celebrate and honour the science of love from pregnancy and beyond. Spotighting the magic of nurturing interactions in the context of adult-baby relationships.

This not for profit, special event will be relevant for parents, caregivers, practitioners, students, policy makers, funders and more. Everyone with an interest in attachment, child development and relationships. It will give attendees an insight into the science created in moments of attachment and love and what we can all do to nurture young children's development to give them the best start in life.

Do not hesitate. There is a limited number of tickets available and they will go fast.

Tickets are subsidized, thanks to the partnership between our organisations as well as room sponsorship from Cork City Council. Certification of attendance will be available on the day.

Tickets can be purchased here at a cost of €25.00 which includes a light lunch<https://www.eventbrite.ie/e/the-science-of-love-tickets-1144048713499?aff=oddtcreator> (<https://www.eventbrite.ie/e/the-science-of-love-tickets-1144048713499?aff=oddtcreator>)

Dr. Dan Wuori

With more than 30 years of early years leadership, Dr. Dan Wuori is the Founder and President of Early Childhood Policy Solutions, a bipartisan public policy consultancy focused on the needs of young children, their families, and the early years professionals who serve them. He serves concurrently as a Strategic Advisor on Early Childhood to the Saul Zaentz Charitable Foundation. In both roles – and in his prior position as the founding Director of Early Childhood at The Hunt Institute in Cary, North Carolina - Dr. Wuori has worked alongside governors and state legislators to improve early years policy across the United States.

But to parents the world over, Dan is known not for his policy work, but for his innovative use of social media to educate about infants and toddlers – with more than a quarter million followers (across platforms) tuning in to his daily video child development lessons. This work was recently profiled in The New York Times (<https://www.nytimes.com/2024/03/31/us/dan-wuori-child-development-videos.html>), which called his X (Twitter) account “a font of delight and edification... educational, but also – put simply – awwwwww.”

His new book The Daycare Myth: What We Get Wrong About Early Care and Education \(and What We Should Do About It\) (https://www.amazon.co.uk/Daycare-Myth-Wrong-Education-Should/dp/0807786489/ref=sr_1_1?crid=19FBRXCG524E7&dib=eyJ2ljoilMSJ9.Qmrl-FOzSnHXRadYK13e6elfspVV20Wv1SbWRJ2HJXGjHj071QN20LucGBJIeps.0NyuwppwBA_1CG6vdUzsGEApFNbGFLtHUj_Pot5WnK8&dib_tag=se&keywords=daycare+myth&qid=1721912545&srefix1) was released in September 2024. Upon its announcement, the book – which explores the costly disconnect between what we know about the science of early development and our public policy – spent a week at the top of Amazon's education, education reform and policy, and developmental psychology best sellers list. It is now in its third printing.
