UNAUTHORISED RECYCLING AND DUMPING

Authorized E-Waste Recycling in Ireland

The importance of responsible recycling including electronic recycling and safe data disposal cannot be overstated

Unauthorised dumping and unofficial electrical recycling services often lack the resources to handle electronic waste responsibly. This can lead to environmental hazards, as hazardous materials from improperly disposed electronic devices can contaminate soil and water. This can pose a significant threat to our ecosystems and public health. Dumping can be in a local hedgerow or green area, a remote field in the mountains, a lake or the sea!

Unofficial electronic recycling can lead to unforeseen access to personal data saved on old computer, laptop tablet or mobile phones equipment. It's important this type of equipment is recycled, just ensure you do so safely!

Households and businesses are required to dispose of their waste properly through an authorised waste collection provider or by bringing their waste to an authorised waste management facility. Recycle IT can help with safe electrical, electronic and pure metal recycling. Drop off or arrange a collection.
