Assistant Industrial Officers

Fórsa is a membership led union: we empower workers to change their lives at work. We build worker power by engaging every worker in the jobs and workplaces that we organise.

We are currently looking for energetic, motivated, and empathetic people with organising and campaigning skills to join our team as Assistant Industrial Officers.

Overview of the Role

As an Assistant Industrial Officer, you build Fórsa's power and membership density by working with workplace representatives, lay leaders, and members to identify the issues that matter to workers in your assigned area.

You will work under the guidance of the Assistant General Secretary or Industrial Officer for your assigned area. You will also be part of a broader Divisional team comprising other Assistant Industrial Officers, Industrial Officers, Assistant General Secretaries, and Administrators, all led by the National Secretary/Head of Division.

You actively contribute to Fórsa's positive and healthy workplace culture through supportive collaborative teamworking.

Working for Fórsa

As an employer, Fórsa is committed to modelling the values of our union: we provide excellent benefits including a career average pension scheme, competitive annual leave, hybrid work and other flexible work arrangements, and a range of financial and practical supports for professional development.

A demonstrated commitment to the values of trade unionism, social justice, a strong public service, and workers' empowerment is essential.
