Paid Work Experience Opportunity for 3rd level students – Gain Valuable Skills in Community Development

Are you a student looking to gain real-world experience in community development? We are offering a paid three-month summer work experience internship to support the development of a Traveller-focused, community-led initiative. This is an excellent opportunity for students interested in community development, health promotion, social policy, or communications. Students will gain hands-on experience in various areas, including administration, research, social media, and event support.

What You'll Be Doing:

- Supporting programme administration and day-to-day tasks
- Conducting research, collecting and analysing statistics to help secure funding
- Researching additional supports and resources available
- Managing and creating content for social media and awareness campaigns
- Assisting at community events and outreach activities
- Contributing to the development of culturally appropriate messages
- Gaining insight into human rights-based approaches in community health
- Experience of community development practice

What We're Looking For:

- Students passionate about community development, human rights and advocacy
- Strong research and analytical skills
- Good written and verbal communication
- Experience or interest in social media and public engagement
- Ability to work independently and within a team
- Enthusiasm for improving health outcomes and making a real impact

If you're passionate about social change and eager to develop your skills, we encourage you to apply!
