

National Adult Literacy Agency (NALA) (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/380>)

NALA Mission Statement

The National Adult Literacy Agency is an independent charity committed to being the voice of adult literacy in Ireland, and with our partners, influence policy and practice to support people in developing their literacy (mission).

Our objectives

We have three objectives.

Since 1997, we have been a dedicated force behind the:

1. Policy – work to ensure that national adult literacy policy priorities are implemented.
2. Practice – develop better literacy and numeracy learning opportunities through:

An integrated learning approach, and

Other effective methods such as distance learning and blended learning.

3. Access – Make it easier for people with literacy difficulties to:
4. Take up literacy and numeracy learning opportunities, and
5. Use other services aimed at the public.
 - 30-fold increase in adult literacy funding, and
 - 10-fold increase in the number of adults involved in VEC adult literacy services.
 - We have brought many innovations to the field of adult literacy and developed the organisation as an expert resource on adult literacy.

Contact Info

The National Adult Literacy Agency - NALA

Sandford Lodge

Sandford Place

Ranelagh

Dublin 6

Freephone 1800 20 20 65 (tel:1800202065)

www.simplyput.ie (<http://www.simplyput.ie>) our plain English website which has free and useful resources and also explains about our Plain English Editing and Review service and our Plain English Mark.

www.helpmykidlearn.ie (<http://www.helpmykidlearn.ie>) our new family literacy website. Again, this site has free activities for parents to do with their children (up to 12 years of age).

www.writeon.ie (<http://www.writeon.ie>) our distance learning website for learners who wish to study independently at home and get accreditation at Levels 2 and 3.

Email

literacy@nala.ie

Website

<http://www.nala.ie> (<http://www.nala.ie>)