

Friends of the Irish Environment (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/455>)

Friends of the Irish Environment - established in 1997 - is a network of conservationists and environmentalists committed to protecting Ireland's environment.

What we do:

- monitor the full implementation of, and to assist in the development of, European law;
- work for changes in the Irish planning laws;
- encourage the implementation of the right to full public participation;
- provide assistance to individuals, local groups, and the wider public in understanding environmental issues;
- seek proper implementation of environmental and planning law to support sustainable communities including the pursuit of concerns and cases in both the built and the natural environment.

Contact Info

Friends of the Irish Environment

Allihies, County Cork, Ireland.

Phone: 353 \(0\)27 73 131 \(Tel:+3532773131\)

Email

admin@friendsoftheirishenvironment.net

Website

<https://www.friendsoftheirishenvironment.org/> (<https://www.friendsoftheirishenvironment.org/>)

Source URL: <https://www.activelink.ie/irish-links/environment/friends-of-the-irish-environment>